The screenshot displays the IBM Cloud dashboard interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the IBM Cloud logo, a search bar, and links to Catalog, Manage, and the user's account (Sugalel Fathima's Acco...). Below the navigation bar, the main dashboard area is titled "Dashboard" and includes links to "Edit dashboard", "Upgrade account", and a prominent "Create resource" button. The dashboard is organized into several sections:

- For you: A horizontal row of six cards, each representing a different service or tutorial. The cards are: "Build" (Explore IBM Cloud with this selection of easy starter tutorials and services), "Build with Watson" (Chatbots, insights, recognizers, and more. Explore the AI platform for business), "Get Started with Watson Studio" (Get started with using AI and Cloud Object Storage in 15 minutes), "Get started with machine learning + Watson Studio" (Build, run and manage AI models. Prepare data and build models anywhere using open source code or visual modeling. Predict and optimize your outcomes), "Build a web app with Watson Speech to Text" (Deploy a conversational interface compatible with any application, device, or channel), and "Watson starter kits" (Generate cloud-native apps that get you started with popular Watson cloud services, including Watson Assistant).
- News: A section on the left with a "View all" link, containing announcements such as "Announcing IBM Cloud Pak for Network Automation Version 2.4", "No Prerequisites for IBM Cloud Certifications", "IBM Tech Now: October 24, 2022", and "Event Streams Adds Value to Kafka".
- Recent support cases: A section with a "View all" link, showing a list of support cases.
- Planned maintenance: A section with a "View all" link, showing a list of planned maintenance events.
- IBM Cloud status: A section with a "View all" link, showing a world map indicating the status of IBM Cloud services across different regions.

The bottom of the screenshot shows a Windows taskbar with various application icons and a system tray displaying the time (14:40) and date (02-11-2022).
